Cornell Cinema's "Cinema Under the Stars" summer series, now in its 19th year, will feature three Hollywood classics outdoors on the Willard Straight Terrace, all with a cash bar, complimentary snacks and a great view! Patrons are also welcome to bring picnic dinners. Doors will open at 8:15pm and films will start at 9:30pm, after dark. In the event of rain, screenings will be held in Willard Straight Theatre. Tickets are $13 general/$11 students & seniors and can be purchased in advance online at CornellCinemaTickets.com. These tickets will be held at the "will call" table for pick-up the night of the show. Any tickets unclaimed by 9:15pm may be resold. Credit cards cannot be used at the door. Terrace shows typically sell-out in advance, so patrons are encouraged to plan accordingly! Added enticement: drawings for three pairs of Cornell Cinema guest passes will be held at each of the three shows. For more information call (607) 255-3522.

The Thin Man

Wednesday, June 27 Doors at 8:15pm/Screening at 9:30pm

1934 > USA > Directed by Woody Van Dyke

with William Powell & Myrna Loy

Audiences have always delighted in the first of the Thin Man series--based on Dashiell Hammett's mysteries--about the glamorous Nick and Nora Charles and their clever dog Asta. With Art Deco sets, cocktails galore and scintillating banter between the two stars, what's not to adore?

To Have and Have Not

Thursday, July 12

Doors at 8:15pm/Screening at 9:30pm

1944 > USA > Directed by Howard Hawks

with Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Walter Brennan

The picture that united Bogey and Bacall has more than just sentimental value: there's suspense, humor, elegance, and the best one liners in film history. Nominally based on Hemingway's novel, the film is set in Martinique during World War II, shortly after the fall of France. Bogart plays a fishing boat privateer and Brennan, his partner. Bacall, as "Slim," gives one of the most stunning film debuts in history: "just put your lips together and... blow."

Sunset Boulevard

Wednesday, July 25

Doors at 8:15pm/Screening at 9:30pm

1950 > USA > Directed by Billy Wilder

with Gloria Swanson, William Holden

A kept man and an aging starlet careen toward madness and murder on Hollywood's infamous Sunset Boulevard. "The film is that rare blend of pungent writing, expert acting, masterly direction and unobtrusively artistic photography which quickly casts a spell over an audience and holds it enthralled to a shattering climax." (NY Times)
